Dear Sis;

Have been receiving your mail regularly. I was quite relieved when I found out the reason for the last letter coming so late.

Hope that the family had an enjoyable time on the vacation. I know that it wasn't a vacation for you, but I imagine that there were some moments when you could relax and enjoy yourself too.

Did Mom miss you very much while you were gone? I imagine she did, she always did hate to have her schedule disrupted by something like that. I remember when I used to be late for supper, boy, would I catch it, especially if she had some place to go. You know I get a kick out remembering little things in the past. They sort of help ease the pain of not being able to come home. Right now I would like to ease my stomach by enjoying some of your home cooking. That's just like a brother isn't it, always thinking of his stomach. The food we get here is alright but it doesn't have that home touch. Of course, I not complaining but it would feel good to sit down and take about a half hour to eat instead of rushing in and out. Oh well some days

I'll be able to enjoy the comforts I once knew.

Heard from Dick Christman last week. He's getting along fine. He was surprised at the package he got and especially the speedy answer. He probably is still accustomed to waiting for two or three weeks for an answer. From what he wrote I gather that he had a swell time on his furlough.

Which reminds me, remember when I left, I told you to send Lee her pictures back. Did you? If you did, let me know and if you didn't back them and let me know. The reason I ask is that several months ago, Lee made a remark in one of her letters saying that I had the better of her seeing that I had two pictures of her while she only had one of me. I don't know if she was referring to some snap shots I had, which incidentally are lost some where in the Pacific, or to the pictures she gave me. It's about time that I got around to finding out so please enlighten this perplexed brother of yours.

Incidentally, when did you send the package containing the foot sticks? I haven't received any as yet. Not that I'm impatient, just chuking up to see if by chance it was misplaced.

That's all for now, so until later, God Bless the fire of you and keep you safe from harm

Love
George

Sergeant George V. Tudor
